David has particular expertise in working with the documentation requirements of state and local governments. David enjoys the fieldwork, meeting with contractor personnel, and the other work required to realize a large scale construction project. David is gifted in resolving disputes at very early stages so that discord on the jobsite is minimized.

David provided contract administration services for the new $ 13.2 million Louie Livingston Hall (DTAE-139) at Oconee Fall Line Technical College in Dublin, and for multiple projects at Middle Georgia State College in Cochran. In addition, David has provided contract administration services at two BOR campuses and six TCSG campuses.
